Prayer of Hope

Where does my hope come from? My hope comes from God who made the heavens and earth.

When I wake up every morning I have hope; however I can see and know that there is violence, misery and injustice in the world in which I was born. Sometimes I wonder what it would have been to be born in a planet where everyone was treated equally and with respect. God has called us to live in this kingdom here and to learn to put up with each other, and we will obey God's call. I have not been sedentary since I was born, I have emigrated from one place to the other; some friends ask, where is your home? And I tell them; my home is where my history continues.

Lord, recently there have been difficulties in my life that have decreased my hope, but when I think of you and build a relationship with you and seek you more... my hope grows as the plants do in the spring. Nowadays, trees and plants and everything that grows die because the life cycle has to go on. It is important to know that we all want to be with you Lord, but no one wants to be the first because life on earth is enjoyable.

I pray that we can understand the meaning of life and why we are here on earth. I know that I am here to be a servant who helps my neighbors without prejudice. I feel sad that there are many who call themselves Christians but are not ready to follow Christ, they are interested in following human laws only but call themselves "Christians."
